Thanksgiving.

Large Realty Increase in Norfolk County-Eccles to Die To-Day.

Gevernor Mann yesterday issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation, as follows:

"Whereas, the people of this Commonwealth have, during the past year, enjoyed to a marked degree the blessings of God in abundant harvests, good health, happy homes and great progress and advancement in all directions, it is especially fitting that, following the suggestion of the President of the United States, we should set apart a day for the manifestation of our gratitude:

"Therefore, I, William Hodges Mann, Governor of Virginia, do fix upon Thursday, the 24th day of November, 1910, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to the Giver of all good, and enjoin upon the citizens of this Commonwealth to assemble in their places of worship, and to the members of families to meet together in their homes to offer grateful prayers and thanksgiving, and to ask God, as the Father of His people, to bless our homes and firesides, and make us a people whose God is the Lord.

"Given under my hand and the lesser seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this 9th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thrity-fourth year of the Commonwealth.

"WILLIAM HODGES MANN,

REQUISITION REFUSED Governor Turus Down Request From North Carolina Executive.

Governor Mann yesterday refused to honor a requisition upon him from Governor W. W. Kitchin, of North Carolina, for the person of J. S. Moore who was in the Charlotte county fall until last evening, but is probably now at liberty. Moore was wanted at Asheville for obtaining money under false protenses.

It seems that the case arose out of the discounting of a note by Moore, the discounting of a note by Moore.
